

A VIDEO BIOGRAPHY COMPANY

Memories
On Video™

Basic MOV Video Interview Process

- Pre-shoot conference with your interviewer to prepare your story and plan the interview
- Two-hour video shoot in MOV's convenient Midtown Manhattan studio*
- We encourage you to bring friends and family to join you on-camera to reminisce
- Six hours of professional editing where we can also add some of your personal photographs
- Then you review the edited version for your approval
- We send you the final edited production on 100-year gold archival DVDs in an attractive, durable case

Additional options include:

- Be interviewed in your home or office
- Add your home movies, videos, music and additional photos
- Blu-ray Disc and other video file formats, audio-only CDs, print-on-demand illustrated transcript books also available

*Please allow three hours of your time for the interview

Memories
On Video

13 W. 36th Street, Suite 801, New York, NY 10018

212.239.0050

memoriesonvideo.com

info@memoriesonvideo.com

We produce high quality videos of people as they tell stories from their lives with the help of our professional team of interviewer, videographer and editor.

"People are hungry for stories. It's part of our very being. Storytelling is a form of history, of immortality too. It goes from one generation to another." - Studs Terkel

SHARE YOUR LIFE STORIES

...in your own words

...with the help of a professional interviewer

...preserved on archival DVDs

...as a gift to your loved ones

and to the future

Why Share Your Stories?

Your stories are your life. From the family stories that only you know, to key moments that shaped you along the way, your personal history is unique. Whatever your stage of life, there are many who would love to hear your reminiscences, and there is no better person to tell those stories than you. And you'll be surprised how many people will be fascinated to hear your stories right now!

- Preserve family stories and history; preserve the history of your company or institution.
- Record first-hand accounts of historical events and experiences.
- Honor the people you care about.
- Explore what you have learned and believe in — make an ethical will.
- Create a family heirloom that will be passed down through the years.

An Incredibly Unique and Special Gift

A Memories On Video interview is an ideal gift for someone very special to you.

- Your spouse—imagine this as an anniversary gift!
- Your parents—show them your love, and capture their important stories for you, your children and future generations.
- Your children—help them preserve their youthful memories.
- Give this to a good friend—how good would you feel if they gave this to you?

People often take their own adventures for granted. They may not realize the importance of their stories, but this gift shows you care about their whole life.

“I wasn’t sure I would be good at this, and then things just unfolded. And I was surprised—this was very useful to me personally.” – MOV Interviewee

Our Approach

A unique feature of Memories On Video is the experience of our interviewers and their capacity to interact with the storyteller to create a vivid, true portrait.

Sergio Rothstein, Ph.D.

“I hope your interview will be an interesting and informative conversation with you in which you can be yourself, despite the camera. It should capture those things that matter most to you.”

Joan Lavender, Psy.D.

“Let’s work collaboratively to find your best way of telling your story. I’ll work with you to stay on track, help you deepen your story, and make the process comfortable for you, and valuable to you.”

Cal Sutliff

“Coaching and supporting are key words in my approach. People have all they need in terms of information. They may need help in focusing, or in relaxing, or to be helped with suggestions at some points. Whatever it takes.”

Visit memoriesonvideo.com to learn more about these interviewers.

Corporate Partnerships

Does your organization have clients or members who would benefit from preserving their memories on video? We can form a partnership that helps your bottom line as well as making our unique service available to them. Please contact us to learn more.